"A Weary World Rejoices"

I don't know about you, but I cannot believe that Christmas is about a month away! Advent starts December 3 and concludes in our morning worship on December 24 (yes, we will have worship Sunday morning, December 24 as well as the Christmas Eve service at 5pm that evening). Our theme this year comes from a group called Sanctified Art. They will not only offer us a compelling theme this year, but some beautiful artwork and an in-depth look at the book of Luke.

The theme How does a weary world rejoice? is based on the familiar song "O Holy Night". It all began with the creators of the series asking one another, "What is the message we need to hear this season?" Here's what Sarah Speed, one of the creative partners wrote..

How does a weary world rejoice?

I would guess

soul by soul

and day by day.

But if you ask me,

I bet most of it counts.

A lot of people are having a hard time rejoicing this year. Seems that is often the case in our world. And yet, on that first Christmas, the world was in equally, if not worse shape than we are in today. But the angels sang, and the shepherds rejoiced, and the wise ones came from the east. It seemed all of creation was in song.

But the singing didn't begin on Christmas. No, it began with the birth of John, continued through the Magnificat of Mary, and... You are invited to come and share in the story this advent. I hope that it will help you, in this weary world, find a way to rejoice.

Have a blessed Christmas season

TALKING CIRCLE TO MEET IN FELLOWSHIP HALL

Starting in November, a local group called a "talking circle" will meet in our fellowship hall. This is a Native American group of about 10-20 people. The TRADITIONAL "TALKING---CIRCLE" is a very old way of bringing NATIVE PEOPLE of all ages together in a quiet, respectful manner for the purposes of TEACHING, LISTENING, LEARNING, SHARING. When approached in the proper way, the circle can be a very powerful means of touching or bringing some degree of HEALING to the MIND, the HEART, the BODY, or the SPIRIT. One could call it a very effective form of NATIVE GROUP THERAPY.

Traditionally, the group meets outdoors, but given our Northern Michigan winters, they have requested to meet indoors through the cold months (November - May, depending on weather). They will meet from 7pm until likely 9pm each Friday night. They have said that people are welcome to attend, but please understand this is sacred space so please be respectful. This is also true if you happen to stop by during a meeting.

The Trustees have welcomed this historically underserved group of spiritual people seeking healing and wholeness to use our facility. If you have questions, please speak with Pastor Greg or a member of Trustees.

CROP WALK FOR HUNGER 2023 OTSEGO COUNTY

THANK YOU EVERYONE: To those who participated in the Walk or in the giving, you deserve a huge round of applause. This year's walk netted $9,526.00. 25% of this amount will be donated to the Otsego County Food Pantry...approximately $2300.00. This is an amazing gift to our community and to the lives of those who are dealing with hunger on a daily basis.

First Congregational Church UCC, Gaylord, raised $1285.00. We have our dedicated walkers and those who reach out to others to contribute. We acknowledge the tireless efforts of Margaret Hellenberg who continues to solicit the largest amount of donations. We all love and appreciate Margaret and her ceaseless efforts to help others.

Thanks again to our amazing, caring, giving church....

Our Michigan Miracle

by Lillian Daniel
Michigan Conference Minister

At our first in-person Michigan Conference Annual Meeting in years, we beat our pre-pandemic registrations and literally packed the place. In what will heretofore be referred to in church history as the “Michigan Miracle,” we ended the business session ten minutes early.

Getting to preach at worship, hearing everybody sing, and eating lunch in a noisy social hall are all blessings that I do not take for granted. I’m so grateful to the Planning Team, Conference Staff, Michigan Conference UCC Board of Directors, and our hosts at Plymouth United Church of Christ, but most of all I’m grateful to God that we didn’t have to do another Annual Meeting sitting at a screen.

Of course, screens have their place when it comes to connectivity and catching up. On our website, you’ll find my sermon from the Annual Meeting and the recording of our Keynote. On our YouTube channel, you can view last month’s lively Leadership Lunch with Bishop Will Willimon whose take on Advent preaching was both holy and hilarious. I hope these recorded resources inspire you to register for the live ones. Our December 6 Zoom at lunch time will feature Still Speaking Daily Devotional author Quinn Caldwell. His Advent devotional book All I Really Want: Readings for a Modern Christmas made him my first choice to boost the spirits of our clergy and church members during this Advent Season.

Before we get to December, let’s take a moment to acknowledge the November holiday that precedes it. Yes, I am well aware that most nations around the globe do not acknowledge the occasion. Even in our country, it is a day that is not celebrated by all people, a day with a complex history, a day that some increasingly choose to ignore and others denounce outright. But the fact is November 18 is still my birthday and I won’t condemn anyone who celebrates it with a gift to the Friends of the Michigan Conference.

In all seriousness, my heart is filled with prayers of thanksgiving for you all. In a culture of crass commercialism, consumerism, colonialism, and conflict, our brave Michigan UCC churches stand up and stand out as a lighthouse to the spiritually ship-wrecked. I know of UCC pastors who are not invited to their town's clergy meetings because they have defended the local library's mission to include all authors, all readers and to invite free speech. I know of UCC church members who are told by other so-called Christians at the grocery store that our search for salvation does not count because it is not exclusive enough, as if cruelty will be our ticket into heaven. I know of UCC youth who are shocked to discover that their loving local church nest hangs on one of the smaller branches of the ancient Christian family tree, a thin branch that cares about Trans Day of Remembrance, that takes unpopular stances long before the rest of Christianity catches up. I know it's not easy out there. I know that there are times when you feel alone. You are not alone. God is still speaking and the Spirit knits us together.

By now each Michigan Conference UCC local church should have received a personal letter, thanking you for what you have shared over the years in the Basic Support of Our Church's Wider Mission. Those Basic Support dollars are as precious and essential to us at the Michigan Conference as the donations of church members are to the local church, especially in these tough economic times.

In the United Church of Christ, we are connected, not by commandment but by covenant. We give, not because we must but because we may. I pray that the Michigan Conference provides the momentum for many more moments like our Annual Meeting when the ministry we do together reminds us that we are never alone.

Feel free to use or share this message to serve and uplift the church.
